Product description

The LDI 20 is a modular system for automatic labeling of fruit and vegetable products.

Due to its sophisticated design you gain optimal labeling flexibility – different container and label sizes are possible. You can also label fruit and vegetables in fruit insert trays. We offer you the LDI 20 as a complete solution – from hardware and software up to the label.

The system is entirely made of aluminum and can be integrated in existing production lines. You can control each label dispenser separately and automatically position it to match the product.

Operation of the LDI 20 is easy and intuitive. The entire system is controlled by a PC with touchscreen – even from a distance. The network-capable solution can be smoothly integrated in your IT system.
